

Declaration for publications incorporated in thesis

Graduate students may incorporate their own published material, or material in progress towards publication in their thesis if:

- The graduate student contributed greater than 50% of the content in the publication and is the “primary author”, i.e., the graduate student was responsible primarily for the planning, execution, and preparation of the work for publication
- The graduate student has approval to include the publication in the thesis from their supervisor
- It is a primary publication that reports on original research conducted by the graduate student during their enrolment
- The content contains no material which has been accepted for the award of any other degree or diploma at any university or equivalent institution
- The publication is not subject to any obligations or contractual agreements with a third party that would constrain its inclusion in the thesis
